Information on Guadalajara:

"The Pearl of the West" is the affectionate name that the local residents have for Mexico's second largest city, Guadalajara, located in the west-central part of the country in the state of Jalisco. The beautiful colonial city of Guadalajara sits on a high plateau more than 5,000 feet above sea level. Even today, the downtown area of Guadalajara is filled with charming colonial buildings dating from the 1600's.

Information on Guadalajara:

Guadalajara is blessed with one of the world's great climates. Summer and winter both are usually very mild. The climate here has been described as "near perfect" by more than one journalist and is much of the attraction to so many foreign residents. Afternoon rains come during the summer months from June to September with July and August being the months with the most rain. Usually the rain lasts for a few hours after which the air is much cleaner.
